AN EASTERN TALE.

A king once summoned his three sons,
And thus addressed the anxious ones:
"Go forth, my sons, through all the earth
And search for articles of worth;
Then he who brings the choicest thing,
Shall in my stead be crowned as king."

In one year's time again they meet,
And kneel before the sovereign's feet:
And as with gracious outstretched hand,
He welcomed home the youthful band,
He natural eagerness expressed,
To see the objects of their quest.
The first such lustrous pearls displays,
That every tongue is loud in praise.
So white, the snow-flakes on their way
Compared to them are dull and gray.
The next a diamond more pure,
And larger than the Koh-i-noor,
That shone with such a brilliant light,
The sunbeams, shamed, withdrew from sight.

'Twas hard to choose between the two,
The monarch knew not what to do.
The third is standing calmly there;
Now, with a half triumphant air
And smile of confidence and hope,
He shows a cake of Ivory Soap,
So peerless in its purity,
That dirt, alarmed, takes wings to fly.
The old king, as it meets his sight,
Grasps it, and cries in wild delight:
"No more confusion or dismay,
No more cold meals on washing day.
Subjects! my youngest son obey,
The Ivory Soap has won the day."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

NEGRO BOYS ATTACKED BY BEARS.

One Killed and One Taken to the Bears' Den, Where He Was Found.

Along the south bank of the Warrior river, in Tuscaloosa county, there is a tract of land, some 8,000 acres in extent, which is a strange combination of swamp, hillock and dense forest. There are little patches of forest where the foliage of the oak and poplar trees shut out the sunlight at noonday; then there is a cluster of little hillocks, some of them more than thirty feet high, and then comes a stretch of swamp, so dense and so dismal that only the most daring hunters will penetrate it. This locality is the hunters' paradise. In the notches of forest there are thousands of squirrels, turkeys, coons, rabbits and a few deer. In the swamp, bear, mink and other animals are found. The swamp is covered with a dense growth of canebrake, and in this black bears are found in large numbers. They prey on the young stock of the farmers around the swamp.

Just below this swamp there are several large plantations cultivated entirely by negro labor. Living in little cabins, many of them very close to the swamps or forest, there are probably 200 families of negroes. The little children of these negroes have no fear of the dark canebrake swamps or the dense forest; as a result they often get lost. Several times children have been lost in the swamp for a day and night at a time.

One day last week the two boys of Perry Taylor, colored, aged 4 and 6, left home early one morning and wandered off into the forest. They were not missed until noon, and then their parents felt no uneasiness about them. Night came on and still the two boys had not returned. Taylor and his wife were alarmed, but they could do nothing until morning. Next day they organized a searching party and penetrated the swamp and forest. There were some fifty people in the searching party, and they covered several miles of the swamp and forest without finding any trace of the missing children. The second day the search was continued, and probably 200 negroes joined the searching party.

At about noon of the third day five negroes, who had penetrated a mile further into the canebrake than the main searching party, found the dead body of the oldest boy. He had evidently been killed by a bear, and his flesh and clothing were badly torn. The main searching party came up and began to search for the youngest boy. A few hundred yards from the spot where the body of the oldest boy was found the party ran into a bears' den. There were one male and two female bears and five cubs. The old bears showed fight and were shot dead, several of the negroes being armed. At the sound of the shooting the five cubs had huddled close together under the upturned roots of a fallen tree. They were dragged out, and there, half smothered by the young bears, was the 4-year-old negro boy. There was not a scratch on the boy's body, but he was almost starved and was very weak.

The child said they got lost in the woods and kept walking until they were tired, and then lay down and went to sleep. He was awakened by hearing his brother scream, and, looking up, saw him in the clutches of a bear. The little fellow was too badly frightened to run or make an outcry. He lay still and saw his brother torn to pieces. Then the bear turned to him. He screamed and closed his eyes, expecting to be killed. The bear put its nose in his face, and, after smelling him a while, caught his clothing in its teeth and started away with him. The bear carried him to the den and dropped him among the young cubs, where he remained until found by the searching party. Neither the old or young bears made any effort to hurt the child.—Birmingham (Ala.) Letter.

Bigger Than a Fish Hawk.

Mahlon D. Turk, of Oley, six miles from this city, is the owner of five large fish dams. Of late he has been greatly troubled by the depredations of fish hawks, which have made frequent descents upon his fish preserves, where swim some 3,000 or 4,000 German carp of various sizes. The other day, intending to abate the nuisance somewhat if possible, he took down his shotgun, and with a supply of buckshot secreted himself in the bushes beside one of the dams. Presently an enormous bird soared overhead, and after circling around slowly three times made a rapid descent into the pond. Just as it emerged from the water with a fish in its talons Mr. Turk let drive at it with a load of buckshot and killed it instantly. Instead of being a fish hawk, as he supposed, it proved to be a bald eagle, and measured 5 feet 6 inches from tip to tip of its wings.—Reading Cor. New York Sun.

A Snake Voudous a Chicken.

A farmer in the upper portion of this county was aroused one night not long since by the squalling of a hen on her roost in a cluster of vines near the house. Going out, the hen was apparently transfixed with fright and helpless in her movements. A large snake was found near by with eyes evidently set upon his prey. The hen continued her squalls without moving, as if in a nightmare, till the snake was killed, when she fell from her perch, recovering and flying away, but has since been in a droop.—Dalton (Ga.) Argus.

A Bachelor Until He Was 103.

The grandfather of Mr. Walls, now living near Athens, never married till his 103d year. His wife was just 20. They lived happily together. "It was no unusual sight," says The Athens Chronicle, "to see the old man, at the age of 130, plowing in the field. But he was taken sick when in his 138th year and lived but a few months."—Atlanta Constitution.

A well of water on a farm near Harmonyville, Chester county, Pa., suddenly "fell out" while the farmer's wife was drawing water a few days ago. Then the walls of the well abruptly collapsed. It is suspected that an underground lake or river drew away the water.

An Immigrant's Fortune.

Thomas Monahan, an Irish millionaire, who lived in Melbourne for half a century, died recently. He was one of the 800 poor Irish immigrants who sailed for Australia in 1839, and the ship was in such a terrible sanitary condition that ninety of them died on the voyage. Monahan shrewdly invested his little earnings in land about Melbourne, with the result that blocks for which he paid £500 in those early days are now worth £250,000 each. His aggregate wealth is estimated at £2,000,000.—Exchange.

A Twin Watermelon.

Aleck West, colored, we believe, is entitled to the ginger cake for the greatest curiosity this season in the way of a watermelon. He exhibits two perfect melons joined together. Both melons were fully developed and the meat was juicy and sweet—just like an ordinary melon. Aleck states that he first noticed that the runners from the vine grew double. They moved side by side and the result was the double melon. It was certainly a curiosity.—Greensboro (Ga.) Journal.

The Indian Problem Not Yet Solved.

While we congratulate the people of the whole northwest, and especially the citizens of Dakota, on the consummation of their long desire, the opening of the reservation by no means puts an end to the Indian problem as far as the Sioux are concerned. On the contrary, it is scarcely more than the beginning. Only a part of the reserve is acquired by the government; and the same questions will doubtless arise in future, as to that part, which have proved so vexatious in relation to the whole. No settlement can ever be regarded as final which stops short of the absolute allotment of lands in severalty and the adding of all that remains to the public domain. Again, it seems as if the government were merely abandoning one posture of the "guardian and ward" attitude in order to assume another. The reservation system, with its issue of rations and consequent tendencies toward idleness and vice, has scarcely a friend remaining. Yet we have only the same thing in another form in the practice of accumulating immense cash funds for the benefit of the Indian, to be held in trust by the nation, while interest is paid regularly to the beneficiary. The purchase of these lands by the nation means a permanent investment in trust for the Indian. And it is not according to nature that a quarterly payment to him of so many dollars in cash as interest will be any less demoralizing than the issue of so many blankets and so many pounds of flour, beef and pork.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

Badly Used Up by Bees.

Mr. George Murray, a teacher at the Colliery board schools, Dipton, with the assistance of one or two other gentlemen, was preparing to carry some half dozen hives of bees from the Colliery farm to the fells at Waskerley. During the process of packing them in a cart the bottom fell off one of the hives, and, as a natural consequence, the bees came buzzing out and stung Mr. Murray and his companions, as well as stinging the horse attached to the cart. The animal bolted away in fright. Hundreds of bees found their way out of the remainder of the hives, and not only stung the occupants of the cart and the horse in a dreadful manner, but the insects also fastened themselves upon a number of school children who were having a ride through the village on a hay cart. Mr. Murray and his companion (Mr. Elliott) were left lying on the ground in an exhausted and almost unconscious state, and the horse was so badly injured by the insects' stings that it fell down upon the road and succumbed the same night. Mr. Murray was also confined to his bed for some time, but on Saturday he was reported to be much better. The rest appear to be very little worse.—Pall Mall Gazette.

The Cotton Worms.

That one drug house in Vicksburg should receive orders for fifteen tons, or 30,000 pounds, of paris green in one day demonstrates the extent of the apprehension felt by cotton planters concerning the cotton worms in the large area of country tributary to or trading with that city. With the cotton worms apparently so formidable in their second generation, the third generation, which forms a vast increase over its progenitors, may do very serious damage. It is extremely unfortunate, if it be true, that the available supply of paris green has been already exhausted. It is likely that far more than the amount already used will be needed. Where these pests are unchecked by poison, in their third generation, they have been known to ravage cotton fields and leave the stalks as bare of foliage in the latter part of August and September as they are in early February before being pulled up and burned, preparatory to the planting of a new crop.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Military Islamism.

There is about modern Mohammedanism, at least of the military type, nothing of the uncertainty and shillyshally with which modern Christianity is sometimes reproached. The prophet understood the natural man of Asiatic and African races perfectly well, and his mode of procedure is still fully justified with them. He did not, like some unwise fanatics, promise universal victory, invulnerableness, or anything of the kind. The followers of the Khalifa are quite aware that they may be collectively defeated and individually killed. But that does not interfere either with their certainty of the ultimate success of their cause, with their sense of the duty of offering conversion, tribute or the sword, or with their enjoyment of the comfortable prospects of the martyred believer. —Saturday Review.

Jersey Mosquitoes Astray in Japan.

An extraordinary statement was made the other day by a man from Miyagaiken. He stated that in Sendai, since the 11th and 12th ult., the people have been much troubled with a kind of poisonous butterfly. To touch one of them causes the flesh to itch, and if scratched to swell and remain swollen for a very long time. In daylight, he says, they do not make their appearance, but at twilight they swarm into the houses. With the approval of the authorities fires are now burned at the entrances of houses and yards to attract the insects and destroy them.—Mainichi Shimbun.

The American rage for baseball is after all weak compared to the British craze for cricket. At the last match between the two greatest of the county elevens, Surrey and Nottingham, which took three days to play, nearly 60,000 people went to see it and Surrey's victory. The batting of Lockwood and Abel, who together made 159 in Surrey's second inning, was so important toward winning the match that the collection taken up for their benefit amounted to £42, £5 of which was in penny pieces.

Of the 35,000 tons of wire fencing annually imported into the Argentine Republic it is said that Belgium furnishes half, Great Britain about a quarter and France somewhat less.

The forty-third annual report of the commissioners in lunacy for Great Britain contains interesting figures. On New Year's day last there were in the kingdom 84,840 insane persons. Various causes of insanity are set forth in a table covering 130,478 cases. Of these 9,569 persons lost their reason from domestic trouble, 8,060 from "adverse circumstances," 8,278 from overwork and worry, 3,769 from religious excitement, and 18,290 from intemperance. The influence of heredity was ascertained in 28,063 cases, and congenital defect in 5,881.

And now the superfluity of rain this year is given as a reason for the non-success of a large dozen seaside hotels. As a matter of fact, there are too many such establishments from Maine to California, and by no means enough people to "go round."

A brass ring was sent from Germany to a New Yorker the other day which was seized by the customs officers. The tax due to the government was three cents, and it cost the United States something like $15 to collect that sum.

KANSAS IS ALL RIGHT.

A Railroad Traveling Agent Tells a Reporter About Arkansas Valley.

Every one who comes to Kansas City from Kansas these days has his own particular stock of stories to tell about the wonderful crops in that state. Among the Sunflower pilgrims who landed in the city Saturday was Charley Barrett, the good looking and talkative traveling passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific. He had spent four or five days in southern Kansas, and his mouth was going at the rate of 500 revolutions a minute about crops when he was flagged by a Times man on Main street.

"Wheat!" he exclaimed. "You never saw the like! The farmers down in southern Kansas had to rent the public roads to get room enough to stack the wheat. Wasn't room enough in the fields to hold the stacks. I saw one"——

"How is the fruit crop?"

"Fruit! You never saw the like! Apples as big as cannon balls growing in clusters as big as haystacks. I saw one apple that"——

"Don't the trees break down?"

"Trees! You never saw the like! The farmers planted sorghum in the orchards, and the stalks grew up like telegraph poles and supported the limbs. I saw one stalk of sorghum that was two feet"——

"How is the broom corn crop?"

"Broom corn! You never saw the like! There hasn't been a cloudy day in southern Kansas for a month. Can't cloud up. The broom corn grew so high that it kept the clouds swept off the face of the sky as clean as a new floor. They will have to cut the corn down if it gets too dry. Some of the broom corn stalks are so high that"——

"How is the corn crop?"

"Corn! You never saw the like! Down in the Neosho and Fall River and Arkansas bottoms the corn is as high as a house. They use stepladders to gather roasting ears."

"Aren't stepladders pretty expensive?"

"Expensive! Well, I should say so; but that isn't the worst of it. The trouble is that the children climb up into the cornstalks to hunt for eagles' nests, and sometimes fall out and kill themselves. Fourteen funerals in one county last week from that cause. I attended all of them. That is why I am so sad. And, mind you, the corn is not more than half grown. A man at Arkansas City has invented a machine which he calls 'The Solar Corn Harvester and Child Protector.' It is inflated with gas like a balloon and floats over the corn tops, and the occupants reach down and cut off the ears of corn with a cavalry saber. Every Kansas farmer has a cavalry saber, and"——

"Do they make much cider in Kansas?"

"Cider? You never saw the like! Oceans of it! Most of the farmers in Crowley county have filled their cisterns with cider. A proposition was made a few days ago to the water works company of Arkansas City to supply the town with cider through the mains, but the company was compelled to decline because they were afraid the cider would rust the pumps. They were sorry, but they said they would have to continue to furnish water, although it cost more. I saw one farmer who"——

"How is the potato crop?"

"Potatoes! You never saw the like! A man in Sedgwick county dug a potato the other day that was so big he used the cavity it grew in for a cellar. I saw one potato that"——

"The people must be happy over their big crops?"

"Happy! You never saw the like! I know men in the Arkansas valley who were too poor this time last year to flag a bread wagon, and now they have pie three times a day. One fellow that"——

But the reporter just at this point had a pressing engagement elsewhere.—Kansas City Times.

To Preserve Dead Bodies.

There is a man in Denver who has an idea that the country ought to give up the present method of disposing of dead bodies and adopt one which he suggests. He does not advocate cremation, nor anything else which, so far as is known, appears to have been suggested by any other person. His scheme is to freeze the dead body in water, take the block of ice in which the body has been frozen and carry it to the north and deposit it on the shores of one of the Arctic seas. He says that he has already made some favorable progress, and that an English syndicate is considering the establishment of an international cemetery on the shores of Baffin's bay, where he says that future generations may go to find the faces of their ancestors of the Nineteenth century as natural as life.—New York Sun.

The "Lost Cabin."

On Aug. 4, 1886, Charles E. Burnes and Nathan Fubbard left Linkville, Ore., on a prospecting tour to find the "Lost Cabin" in the mountains. For years the Lost Cabin has been one of the traditions of that section, and many a search has been made for it and the gold that is supposed to be waiting for the finder. Nothing was again heard of the two men until a few weeks ago, when a cattle herder found their camp and their skeletons in a dense wilderness near Diamond lake, fifty miles from Fort Klamath. The skeletons were found near together, wrapped in their blankets and clothed. Their guns stood against a tree near by. A small sum of money was in one of the men's pockets, and a watch, so that it seemed certain that they had not been murdered and robbed. A diary and a postal card addressed to Burnes' mother served to identify them. The diary was carried to Aug. 21, 1886, so the men had been dead nearly three years. But how they died will probably be one of the mysteries of the Diamond Lake region.—Chicago Herald.

American Women at the Exposition.

This is about the way that the average American woman dresses to spend the day in the Paris exposition. The fashionable begin to go there immediately after breakfast, and take luncheon and dinner there, attend the concerts and spectacles from hour to hour, taking in all the Oriental departments, seeing the Eastern dancers, and getting a long rest in the afternoon by taking a wheeled chair and hiring a small boy to roll them about in a leisurely fashion among the palms and flowers in the horticultural department.—Paris Letter.

Bees and Gold.

Clinton A. Snowden, of Tacoma, saw bees going and coming from a hollow tree. He built a fire, smoked out the bees and cut down the tree to get the honey. He found a great lot of it; but, better still, a large quantity of gold was in the hollow trunk. It had evidently been deposited there by nature, and the wise men out there think that it was "gradually washed up every year by the flow of sap, and in course of time accumulated into a solid mass." Mr. Snowden got over $7,000 for the gold.—New York Sun.

The American Iron and Steel association report that the production of pig iron in the first six months of 1889 was larger than in any preceding six months in the history of the American iron trade.

THE KILLING OF GEN. JORDAN.

A Violent Man, and the Sudden Death That Overtook Him at Last.

A dramatic sequence of events lay behind the recent assassination of Gen. Lopez Jordan in the streets of Buenos Ayres. Jordan was a violent, venturesome, unscrupulous man, who had experienced all the ups and downs of an adventurer's career. He was born in Concepcion, Uruguay, in 1822. He was educated in the Jesuit college, in Buenos Ayres, and in 1841 entered the Argentine army as a lieutenant. In the revolutionary times of 1849 he was commandant of his native town. He was unpopular, even among his own people. He was quarrelsome, imperious and insolent, and always ready to meet any resentment which his conduct excited with a challenge to a duel. In the disturbances of 1851 he took sides with the tyrant Rosas against the rebellious Gen. Uqurila.

Under the protection of his chief he committed all sorts of misdeeds. His most atrocious crime was the murder of Maj. Casas. In the shadow of this crime he passed the last years of his life, and in consequence of it he met a violent death. Casas was the prefect of the city of Palmas, in the province of Entre Rios. He was a landed proprietor and a cattle man of great wealth. In 1873 he made a trip through the province for the purpose of selling 1,000 sheep and a large strip of woodland. In returning home with the proceeds of the sales in his pockets he passed through the region held by Jordan's troops. Jordan heard of his presence, and ordered that he should be arrested. It was done. Jordan received Casas in his tent, questioned him as to his possessions, and then, without a word of accusation, complaint or explanation, commanded that he should be executed. Casas was tied to a tree and slaughtered like a sheep. Jordan seized all the money found on the dead man's body, and afterward stripped his victim's family of all their property.

Justice is pretty leaden footed in the Argentine Republic, especially when she is after generals; nevertheless, she began to overhaul Jordan almost immediately after the despoliation of the Casases. One by one his crimes were turned against him until in 1878 he was imprisoned in Parana on the charge of murdering Casas and Gen. Urquiza. By bribing the guards he made his escape from jail and left Parana in the disguise of a beggar on the arm of his daughter. He concealed himself over the border for ten years. After the amnesty of 1888 he returned to Buenos Ayres.

In the meantime the young son of Maj. Casas had become a man. He had seen many black days since the despoliation of his family. His mother had died of a broken heart, in extreme poverty. On her deathbed she made him swear to avenge his father's murder. A keen struggle with the world to obtain food and clothes for his sister and himself kept this oath fresh in young Casas' memory. He knew that Jordan would come back to Buenos Ayres some day, and he watched carefully for news of his return. A few weeks ago news of Jordan's reappearance came to Montevideo, where young Casas, as a reporter, was making a fair living for his sister and himself. Casas went at once to Buenos Ayres.

One Saturday noon Gen. Lopez Jordan stepped from his house into the most crowded street of Buenos Ayres for his midday stroll. Some hundred steps from his door a young man sprang before him and asked:

"Are you Gen. Lopez Jordan?"

"Yes."

"I am Aurelio Casas, son of Maj. Casas, whom you murdered sixteen years ago. I am come to shoot you."

Gen. Jordan stood quite still and spoke a few words of apology. Aurelio Casas did not heed them. He motioned back the gathering crowd, drew a revolver and shot Gen. Jordan in the throat. Gen. Jordan did not move. Casas fired a second shot. It passed into Gen. Jordan's heart, and he fell dead to the ground.

Some one shouted "Murder!"

"I am no murderer!" shouted back Casas, who remained beside his victim's body. "I have merely killed the man who killed my father." Then he threw down his revolver and walked away. Subsequently he surrendered himself to the police. The body of Gen. Lopez Jordan was carried to his palace, which had been built and furnished with the proceeds of the crime just avenged.—New York Sun.

Do Not Believe In a Future Life.

When a gypsy dies that is the end. Every member of the race has a horror of death, because no gypsy lives who has faith in a hereafter. They cannot be induced to contemplate it. No genuine gypsy ever accepted Christianity. Borrow in his many years of Bible and missionary work among them never claimed to have converted one. In all countries, as is true of a goodly number of other folk, they occasionally profess a sort of attachment to the ruling creed. For instance, we hear of a "gypsy exhorter" in Ohio, and the other day a good bishop of Delaware was allowed to christen a gypsy child in a camp near Wilmington. But these little hypocrisies are all in the way of gypsy thrift.—Springfield Republican.

The Foot of the Grand Canyon.

I went to the bottom of the Grand canyon of the Colorado last winter and am one of the few men who ever attempted the descent. I went there to examine a mine said to exist in the bottom of the canyon. I have been all through the Rockies from Montana to Central America and know what a chasm is, but the sight of that abyss took my breath away. From the top to the bottom it is full 6,000 feet. Over a mile below you can see the river tearing through the gorge, but not a sound can be heard, it is so far away. From one bank to the other it is apparently not over a quarter of a mile, but as a matter of fact it is fully nineteen miles. My guide told me I would never be able to reach the bottom, but I was determined to go and I went. It was a terrible climb and it took us eight hours to reach the bottom. It is certainly the most desolate place in the world. There is no living thing down there—no insects, reptiles nor animals of any kind. Every thing is absolutely dead. The mining prospect was worthless. Before the sun was up the next morning we were on our way out, and it took us until 10 o'clock that night to climb the wall of the canyon.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Mrs. Stephen Danforth, of Manchester-by-the-Sea, is another victim of the tobacco habit. She learned to smoke in Virginia, where she was born, and though she does her own work and looks after her husband, who is old and infirm, she is rarely without a lighted pipe in her mouth. She smokes twelve pipefuls daily. Mrs. Danforth will be 97 years old on her next birthday.

Grand Rapids, Mich., offered a bounty for the killing of English sparrows, and up to date boys have slaughtered over 10,000 of the pests. In addition, the boys have filled a horse with bird shot, punctured the leg of one of their number with the same and put out the eye of another.

A FEMININE AERONAUT'S NERVE.

It Carried Her Safely Through a Period of Awful Peril.

Fully 1,200 persons assembled at Jackson Mound park yesterday afternoon to witness the balloon ascension and parachute jump by Miss Dessa Garrett. Miss Garrett is a small but compact and well knit woman, and of light weight, and this fact, as it proved later, saved her from a frightful fate.

At 5 o'clock the monster balloon was fully inflated, and the eager throng of sightseers mounted benches and tables to get a good view of the start. The ropes were released at a given signal, Professor Robinson cried "All ready!" and up shot the aerial ship, with its occupant hanging to the trapeze bar. Up went the balloon till the aeronaut could hardly be distinguished, and a hush settled on the crowd below as the awful consequence of a fall from that dizzy height presented itself to their minds. Many of those present had opera and field glasses through which they viewed every movement of the balloon and its occupant.

A height of fully 5,000 feet was at length attained and the balloon commenced to slowly descend, and still Miss Garrett did not make the leap. She was seen to attempt to pull the parachute toward her, but something was evidently wrong. As the balloon descended the parachute expanded, and when about 4,000 feet from terra firma Miss Garrett let go of the bar of the balloon and intrusted herself to the parachute. The latter, however, did not detach itself from the balloon, and the two continued slowly to descend. A few were heard to remark when they saw the apparently easy and safe descent, that it was done by prearrangement, and that the aeronaut did not intend to make the jump when she made the ascent.

Such people and the crowd generally were not aware that Miss Garrett was, by very reason of the parachute not detaching itself, in most deadly peril of being dashed to atoms. Professor Robinson knew it, and his cheek blanched as he awaited the threatened catastrophe. Mr. J. J. Hogan was aware of it, and went into the ticket office to avoid seeing what he thought was inevitable. So also did a few others who knew enough of the relation the parachute bore to the balloon to be aware of what result might be expected.

The parachute is fastened with a cord to the side of the balloon. In one place the cord is almost cut in two, and when the aeronaut places his or her weight in the parachute the cord is broken at the weak spot and the parachute is freed. In yesterday's ascension the cord became twisted, thus giving it double strength, and when Miss Garrett swung out on the parachute the jerk was insufficient to part the line. It was at this juncture that the danger was most imminent. The cord being attached to the side of the balloon the weight on it caused it to careen, and a puff of smoke was seen to issue from it. It turned half over, but no further. Had it turned a few feet further, had the lady's weight been a few pounds greater, it would have capsized.

It was immediately over the parachute; had it capsized it would have collapsed, and its weight of 300 pounds would have come down on the parachute, and in a few seconds later Miss Garrett would have been dashed to the earth. The danger was not over till the balloonist was in jumping distance of the ground, but she made the descent in perfect safety about a mile south of the park.

Miss Garrett fully understood her awful position as she hung suspended in midair, uncertain at what moment she would be dashed to pieces, but she is true grit, and never faltered. She knew that all she could do was to hang on and hope for the best, and she hung on and was saved where a weaker woman's heart would have failed her, and she would have fainted and met an awful death.—Memphis Avalanche.

A Will with Queer Provisions.

The will of the late Thomas Nesmith, of San Diego, is a curious and interesting document. Among its provisions is one giving a fund of $5,000 to remain on interest for 150 years, the total at that time to be mostly used in building and equipping the Nesmith lyceum; one setting apart $60 to run for the same time, the proceeds to be finally used in planting trees, building water troughs and picking up loose stone, and one giving Julian $3,000 for a library, this fund to be available at once. The result of the first named benefactions will be that San Diego, A. D. 2039, will have a lyceum with an endowment equal to that of many colleges, and the improvement society an available fund which will line the road between the lyceum and the Julian library with the most approved form of shade.—Exchange.

A Battlefield National Park.

It is proposed by the Chickamauga Memorial association that the ground on which the celebrated battle of Chickamauga was fought be bought by the association and converted for all time into a national park. This project will be pushed at the annual reunion of the Army of the Cumberland, when it is held at Chattanooga on Sept. 19. Efforts are being made to secure the attendance at this reunion of members of the Confederate army who fought in the battle of Chickamauga.—Exchange.

The Codfish Panks.

Wide publicity has been given lately to the reported discovery by the United States fish commissioner steamer Albatross of the extensive codfishing banks off San Diego

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1889.

Who says that brawn is not more profitable than brains? John L. Sullivan talks of being a candidate for Congress.

The democrats of Luzerne county have nominated Edward Shortz for Judge. Judge C. E. Rice has been renominated. He is an able and upright magistrate, and ought to be kept on the bench. The judiciary should be non partisan.

An effort is now being made to excuse Robert Ray Hamilton for marrying a woman whom he knew to be a strumpet on the ground that there was a conspiracy against him, and that he was induced to marry her by being made believe that he was the father of her child. It appears now that the child was an imposture and Mrs. Hamilton was not its mother. Be this as it may, the only conclusion that can reasonably be arrived at is that Robert Ray Hamilton is a fool, with all his money.

DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES.

TARIFF REFORM DEMANDED AND MANY POLITICAL SINS LAID AT THE DOOR OF THE REPUBLICANS.

The following is the platform adopted by the Democratic State Convention at Harrisburg last week.

The Democracy of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled, declare:

1. That all powers not expressly granted to the general government are withheld, and a sacred observance of the rule of construction contained in Amendment to the Constitution itself is essential to the preservation of the principles of home rule, and of pure, honest and economical government, to the end that labor may not be robbed of the bread it has earned.

2. We applaud the action of President Cleveland and our Democratic representatives in Congress looking to tariff reform, we reaffirm the declaration of principles made by the Democracy of the Union at St. Louis, in 1888, especially that demanding a revision and reduction of tariff taxes for the relief at once of American labor, American industries, and American tax-payers, by the repeal of such tariff taxes as now invite and protect monopoly—a greed that lessens production, lessens employment of labor, decreases wages and increases costs to consumers, and by the admission of raw material free of duty in all cases where it will enlarge our product, multiply our markets, and increase demand for labor.

3. We regard trusts, in whatever form organized, as the result of the existing monopoly tariff, and we demand the repeal of such tariff taxes as enable them to control domestic production, by unlawful combination, and to extort from the people exhorbitant prices for their products.

4. We accept the decision of Pennsylvania rendered by the ballot on the prohibitory amendment as a declaration in favor of a reasonable, just and effective regulation of the traffic in ardent spirits. We hold that the agreement of the Republican party through its representatives in the Legislature to the proposed prohibitory amendment to the Constitution, and its defeat at the polls in spite of the Republican majority of 80,000 votes, are facts that establish beyond doubt the hypocrisy of the Republican leaders in their treatment of the question prohibition.

5. We hold the Republican party responsible for the failure—a failure willfully and corruptly incurred—to enforce by "appropriate legislation" the sixteenth and seventeenth articles of the Constitution, designed to protect the land and labor, the people, and the industries of this Commonwealth.

6. We hold the Republican party responsible for the failure to pass any law for the relief of the manual laborers of the State of Pennsylvania.

7. We hold the Republican party responsible for the notorious corruptions which have for many years prevailed in the management of the State Treasury, for the system of depositing loans without interest, enriching favorites of the ring by the use of public money, and for the flagrant violation of law by the commissioners of the sinking fund, and we pledge the faith of the Democratic party that the candidate this day nominated will, if elected, reform these wrongs.

8. That the sufferers by the recent floods have our sincere sympathy, and that while we deprecate and condemn the management on the part of the State authorities by which relief to our sorely afflicted fellow citizens has been unnecessarily delayed, we urge our representatives in the Legislature to take such constitutional action as will give substantial relief to the stricken community.

9. While we favor a liberal system of pensions to such veterans of the late war as have been honorably discharged, and who from wounds or other physical infirmities have been rendered unfit for manual or other labor, we deem it unjust to that large class of those faithful soldiers of the Union who take a just pride in the heroic achievements of their comrades in arms that there should be added to the pension roll the names of any who are not qualified thereby by reason of honorable and faithful service in the line of duty.

The Grangers Against Boyer Because of the Beef Bill's Fate.

The state campaign is fairly opened, now that the democrats have placed their candidate, Edmund A. Bigler, in the field for state treasurer. Chairman Kisner and his clerks have been steadily at work for several weeks past, looking after the organization of the party, their base of operations being at Harrisburg.

Chairman Andrews has had the republican state committee headquarters open at the Continental hotel for more than a month.

The Granger element and the butchers are being stirred up to make a fight against Speaker Boyer for his participation in the defeat of the anti-dressed beef bill, which was killed last winter by the model legislature. The Grangers are represented to be particularly indignant at the way they were treated and they mean to be revenged by opposing its candidate for state treasurer, Mr. Boyer.

The butchers' organization of Allegheny county will consider the matter at their next meeting, and it is said they will declare against Boyer and make a systematic campaign against him. The butchers' claim that the bill in question aimed only to have the syndicate butchers of other states submit their cattle before slaughter to the same rigid inspection to which their cattle are subjected before being killed. It is stated that at Grand Master Rhone, of the Grangers' organization, will lead the fight in that body against Boyer.

REFORM IN FUNERALS.

The necessity that exists for reform funerals has long been recognized—reform not only in the manner of conducting them, but in their cost. The extravagant outlay connected with this last sad rite in some sections is undoubtedly tending to increase the popularity of cremation as a method of disposing of the dead.

In recognition of this necessity, there seems to be a general disposition among undertakers to discourage expensive funerals, especially among the poorer classes, both as a matter of business and as a part of the ethics of the profession, so called. Costly trappings of woe are now regarded as outstripping the bounds of propriety, as they frequently outstrip the length of the purses of the servivors. Instead of halt a hundred hacks following in the way of the hearse, four or five carriages containing the male friends of the deceased alone accompany the remains to their last resting place.

But the necessity for reform in funerals is especially apparent in tenement house districts, and among that numerous class who, by reason of their circumstances and surroundings, and are unable to bear the burden of expense imposed by the so-called fashion in funerals. In such cases the family credit is frequently mortgaged to such an extent that only the most pinching economy for ensuing months can discharge the debt. Much of this extravagance is doubtless due to the vulgar estimate that the love and esteem in which the dead are held is reflected in the length of their funeral trains.

The simplest form of laying away the dead is, beyond doubt, preferable. It is in keeping with the solemnity and sacred grief of such occasions. Reform in this respect from the usages which have so long mantained will ultimately be accomplished, and money which has been needlessly expended in burying the dead will be appropriated, as it should, to the necessities of the living.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.

The Columbia Co. W. C. T. U. met in convention at Catawissa Sept, 3d, and 4th.

First session opened at 1-30 P. M. with Mrs. Guie the president in the chair.

Mrs Fredrick of Catawissa read a cordial address of welcome, Mrs. Prescott of Millville responded appropriately and the president followed with an earnest address. Superintendents of various departments of work were present and reported encouragingly.

The evening entertainment consisted of music and an address by Rev. Moses which was pleasing, profitable and ably delivered. Wednesday morning convention opened to business at 9-30. Committee on time and place reported that the next Convention will be held at Espy on 11th and 12th of Feb. We give a resume of plans of work adopted recommending that scientific temperance instruction be urged in schools. That parlor meetings be held more frequently, that parliamentary drills be arranged in local Unions. That two or three Unions unite from time to time and hold public meetings. That a committee from each local Union urge the missionary societies in their midst to pray for the extinction of saloons, breweries, and distilleries, also for the prohibition of alcoholic beverages in foreign lands. That we be zealous in the suppression of impure literature, that pockets be placed in cabooses and supplied with literature. That special interest shall be manifested in Loyal Legion work also that of work among mothers. Mrs. Hertz read a well prepared essay, and Mrs. Edgar followed with an excellent paper on Narcotics. Meeting adjourned. The afternoon devoted to Loyal Legion work. Their delegates from Millville were Nellie Heacock, Edna Eves, and Alberta Kline. From Berwick Bessie Freas, Will Fowler, Ralph and Ray Deitrich. The young ladies each had a recitation faultlessly rendered, Mrs. Edgar superintendent of this department presented the object and necessity of the work in an impressive manner. The following resolutions were adopted. We thank our Heavenly Father that our ranks have not been invaded by death since our last convention. We are in hearty sympathy with the prohibition party. We tender thanks to the trustees of the church, to the choir, to the pastor for his address, and to the ladies of Catawissa for their kind entertainment.

SECRETARY.

Sketch of the Candidate for State Treasurer

Edmund A. Bigler was born in Clearfield on August 18, 1843. He entered Princeton College, but left that institution when the war broke out. He served with the State militia during the rebel raids into the State. For about two years he was manager of a mine on the Pacific cost. He left there in 1868, and since then he has been engaged in the lumber, fire brick, and coal business at Clearfield. He is one of the owers of the foundry and machine shop there, conducted by Bigler, Reed &Co. is interested in a water company, owns coal lands, and is a member of the Clearfield Fire brick Company. He was appointed Collector of the Twenty-third Internal Revenue District in 1885, with headquarters at Allegheny City, holding that position three years and eleven months. He has frequently been a delegate to State Conventions, was in the convention that nominated Hancock for President and served on the national committee in 1884 as a substitute for his friend, William A. Wallace. Mr. Bigler is of robust build and genial temperament.

A VIGOROUS KICK BY AGENTS.

THEY WILL NOT EXHIBIT THEIR WARES AT WILLIAMS' GROVE.

Trouble of no little consequence exists between many of the agents for agricultural implements, who have exhibited at the grangers' picnic at Williams Grove ever since the first of these big affairs was held, and the men who derive pecuniary benefit from the annual gatherings which thousands of people attend. The agents claim that they were not treated right by the picnic managers in the matter of the running of trains and they declare that they will not again take their wares to Williams Grove. They evidently mean just what they say as they have already begun a movement to hold the next meeting of Graners at Mt. Gretna. Mr. Robert Coleman, the manager of the place, has been consulted, and the terms which he proposes are highly satisfactory to the displeased agents. Mr. Coleman will charge them nothing for exhibiting their machines as is the case at Williams Grove, and he will in other ways favor them and the other patrons.

One of the disgruntled exhibitors was seen and he said: "We have become tired of a few men making thousands of dollars every year out of the Grangers' picnic by charging us big space rates. They want the newspapers to advertise their show for nothing and in short they are guilty of many selfish acts. There is no doubt that the big crowd will be at Mt. Gretna next year.

UNABLE TO TELL.

Yes that was so. For years I suffered severely with scrofula; sores broke out all over my body, and I am unable to tell one half that I suffered. I was not able to obtain relief until I used Sulphur Bitters, which completely cured me.—C. B. DALE, 17 Allston street, Boston. 9-13-2t.

Short Work of a Troublesome Case.

One day I was taken with Paralysis of the Bowels. The stomach and other orgns lost all power of action. Although opposed to proprietary medicenes, I tried Dr. David Kenney's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y. To make a long story short it saved my life. It is the best medicine in the world for difficulties of the kidneys, liver and bowels.—A. J. GIFFORD, Lowell Mass. 9-13-1m.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has given to this medicine a popularity and sale greater than that of any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier before the public.

Merit Wins

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum and all Humors, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliousness, overcomes That Tired Feeling, creates an Appetite, strengthens the Nerves, builds up the Whole System.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

W. H. BROOKE & CO.

The schools of Bloomsburg are all open. The public schools Miss Armstrong's Select, and the Normal—and the indications are that they will all have a larger attendance than ever before.

The pocket books of the fathers and mothers will soon be lightened of considerable of their spare change and in some cases (we trust they may be few) of change that is very hard to secure, for every child who goes to to school will have some things to buy if it be odly a slate or a pencil.—The brighter ones who were promoted at the close of last term will require more new books than the laggards, so if it costs you a little more for books than it does your neighbor take a little consolation out of the probability that your children have been improving their time to better advantage than his.—We have every thing needed in the school room by teachers or pupils, and at the lowest prices.

Personal.

Mrs. W. H. Nichols, of Florida, is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. W. Elwell.

Most of the college students returned to their respectives institutions this week.

Rev. W. C. Leverett is expected home from Europe this week, and there will be services at St. Paul's church on Sunday if the bell rings.

Mrs. M. H. McKinney, and daughter, Miss Ellie, have returned home after an absence of several months at the seashore and other resorts.

Mr. and Mrs. Haud arrived home from Europe on Saturday. On their way home the vessel was detained for a time by a hot journal.

Miss Annie Ent and Charles P. Elwell started for Boston on Monday morning, where they will spend the coming year at the Conservatory of Music. Miss Ent attended the same institution last year.

Mr. John Limeburner returned to his home in Philadelphia last Saturday. While here he made many warm friends, who will be glad to welcome him back here at any time.

Remember "Uncle Hiram" in Opera House next Monday evening. A fine band and orchestra accompanies this troupe.

Mrs. Thomas Dollman was buried on Tuesday. She had been an invalid for a long time.

Our office is turned upside down this week, and we have been able to pay but little attention to news-gathering.

The new dwelling house of A. H. Bloom, on West street, is nearing completion. It will be ready for occupancy in a short time.

Do not be induced to take some other preparation when you call for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Be sure to get Hood's which is peculiar.

New goods in the latest styles of Fall Millinery just opened at E. Barkley's 6-21.

Rev. H. W. Gross of Nescopeck, a fluent talker, will preach in the Evangelical Church on next Sunday evening at 7-30 o'clock.

The terms of subscription of the COLUMBIAN are $1.00 a year, in advance. Those who owe for more than a year should not be offended at receiving a dun. The money is earned and we need it.

E. A. Rawlings lost an infant son Saturday evening. The child had been ill but a short time, and no one seemed alarmed until late Saturday afternoon. The cause of death was cholera infantum. It was an only son and was about one year of age.

An infant child of James Leacock was buried Monday afternoon. It was one of the twins born about three months ago, and was a midget of a child, not weighing over several pounds. The child was found dead in the cradle.

Window frames, door frames, fence pickets, cellar window frames, window sash, can be bought very cheap at this office. A large lot bought at sheriff's sale will be sold at half price. Inquire of Geo. E. Elwell. tf

Many who are interested in the operations on the eye by Dr. Brown are under the impression that a cataract is on the outside of the eye. This is a mistake. A cataract is in the heart of the eye, very much as the pulp is in a grape, or the pit within the peach.

Wood's Business College at Scranton is a decided success and is the largest commercial school in Pennsylvania. The graduates of the short hand and business departments find ready employment and the institution is greatly in favor among the business men and those who are recieptents of its benefits.

The Benton Fair will be held October 2, 3, 4, and 5. Dr. T. C. McHenry is President and A. M. Wilkinson Secretary. Extensive preparations have been made to insure the success of the exhibition, and should the weather be fair a great crowd will be there. Some good races are on the list.

An infant child of Lottie Jacobs, died at her parents' residence in Sunbury, on Tuesday afternoon, aged about nine months. The body was brought to town on the 10:57 D. L. & W. train, and interred in Rosemont cemetery, Rev. W. T. Auman conducting the funeral services.

Harry Mendenhall has gone to Philadelphia to take a course of lectures in Pharmacy. He served three years at Moyer Bros.' drug store, and his employers give him the highest testimonial as a young man of excellent character, industrious habits and intelligence. He will attend lectures two winters, and clerk in a drug store in the mean time.

The pocket book advertised last week as lost, has been found and returned to the owner through the notice in the papers. C. W. Low of Orangeville was the finder. The eyeglasses advertised at the same time are still missing. They were of gold, with a chain, and contained in a morocco case. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at Moyer Bros., Bloomsburg.

To boom a town, people must be alive, energetic, and stick together like brickdust to a bar of soap There must be no wrangling, spite work or jealousies among them. Bees that fight gather little honey. Property owners must offer some inducement to secure business, merchants must advertise in the town paper, and above all things must not expect to make a fortune in a single year or two —Ex.

The following letters are held at Bloomsburg, Pa., post-office, and will be sent to the dead letter office, Sept. 24th, 1889:

Mrs. Maggie Airs, Mrs. Lizzie Brockway, Alfred C. Creveling, Miss Ella Davies, Miss Lizzie P. Foulke, A. Hartman, Mr. Adam Moser, Miss Daisy Pursel, Miss Edith Shipman, Mrs. H. M. Towns, G. M. Wilney, F. D. Zarman.

Persons calling for these letters please say, they were advertised 10 Sep., 1889.

One cent will be charged on each letter advertised.

A. B. CATHCART, P. M.

Editor Yost, of the Pittston Gazette, must be living in clover, for it is reported that he actually had $21.50 in his house at one time; but unfortunately for him a sneak thief broke in and stole it. Of this low-lived business of stealing from an editor a correspondent of the Scranton Republican says: "The thief who will steal from an editor is a mighty mean pilferer. The house of editor Yost on Park street was entered some time between midnight Wednesday and Thursday noon, and robbed of $21.50. There was no one home during the day, for the past month, which seemed to afford a good opportunity to a sneak, As usual in such cases the money belonged to his creditors.—Tuk.-annock Democrat.

The funeral of Mrs. Hannah D. Barton, wife of Dr. J. H. Barton, and daughter of the late Phillip M. Price, who died Monday September 2, 1889, at Peale, Clearfield county, took place in this city this Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Services in St Paul's Episcopal church by Rev. Mr. Wood. Interment in Highland cemetery.

Mrs. Barton had been out to Wisconsin, where she had attended upon her son, who was ill with typhoid fever. She returned about two weeks ago, completely worn out and very weak, in fact had hardly been conscious since. Her unremitting attentions to this sick son and possibly the seeds of the disease in her own system may have led to the sad result here recorded.—Lock Haven Democrat.

William Mather was born Dec. 17th 1801, Died Sept. 5th 1889, aged 87 years and 8 mo. and 18 days.

He was born in Greenwood on the place once owned by Judge Evans, near the Patton farm.

His father was born in Union Co. and moved to Greenwood the latter part of 1700. His father was born Aug. 19th 1772. Greenwood must have been a new and uncleared township at that time.

William Mather was a man of stern integrity. What he said you could believe. He kept on in the even tenor of his way all through life.

He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and did much towards the erection of the house of worship near his residence, also in sustaining the ordinances of God. His departure was like the going down of the sun.

Sale of Valuable Personal Property.

TUESDAY SEPTEMBER 24th 1889—Geo. B. Reimensnyder administrator, will sell valuable personal property at the late residence of Anna Maria Creveling in Scott township. Beds, bedding, tables, bureau, Mason & Hamlin melodeon, sewing machine, cupboards, Brussles, Ingrain and rag carpets, washing machine, mirrors, queensware, books, &c. Farming implements, hand cider mills and press, carriage, spring wagon, lard, potatoes, chickens, &c. Sale to commence at 10 o'clock.

Wednesday, Sept. 4th was made commemorable by the marriage of Mr. E. E. Ralston, of Bloomsburg, and Miss Maggie Hippensteel, of Light Street. Before the sun had yet passed the horizon, the friends and invited guests began to assemble at the home of the bride's parents, until about fifty persons completed the number who had come to witness the happy event. At seven o'clock p. m. the ceremony was performed by Rev. A. W. Swengle, of Bloomsburg, Wess Hippensteel and Miss Anna Hagenbuch being groomsman and bridesmaid. After a hearty congratulation, all were invited out to a table which fairly trembled under its load of delicacies, to which all did ample justice. The presents were numerous and beautiful, and all persons were pleased and had a good time. May their pathway in this life lead them to prosperity and happiness, may the cruel hand of sorrow and desolation never cross their threshold; but joy, love, peace and tranquility reign supremely until they have finished their course here and are called home to enjoy the realms of bliss in that kingdom above, is the wish of their many friends.

PEEK-A-BOO.

Wm. Chrisman Esq had a mishap Monday afternoon, which fortunately did not result in any loss of life. He, in company with his wife and little boy Neil, about three and one-half years of age, drove a pony belonging to his brother C. B. Chrisman, out to Jonathan Troub's. While Mrs. Chrisman went into the house to see her sister, the pony was left to drink at the watering trough. When the pony was done drinking it raised its head and started on a run toward town. Mr. Chrisman, seing the peril of his little boy who was still in the wagon, grabbed the lines and endeavored to stop the pony. The bit broke and he could not control it. After a few plunges, dragging Mr. Chrisman along upon the ground, it started on a full run down the road with Neil, the little boy, as the sole occupant. Mr. Chrisman madly rushed after the runaway, fearing the loss of his son. The pony ran into town and up East street, several attempts having been made to stop it, but without avail, near the head of East street it was stopped, but in doing so the wagon made a sudden turn and threw the little boy out, fortunately he landed on the cushion of the seat and was not hurt. During the long distance of the runaway the boy held tightly to the seat. When Mr. Chrisman arrived and found his little boy unhurt he procured another team and went back after his wife who did not see the accident and knew nothing of it until his return.

A Cute Yankee Comedy.

Nobody should fail to see a performance of "Uncle Hiram," for it is sure that there will be nothing better here this season in the dramatic way. It is a strong play, full of interest and of prompt action, while its comedy elements are in particular well developed. The leading role, that of Hiram Homespun, a countryman who demonstrates that he can take care of himself in New York, is filled by the well known comedian Mr. A. H. Woodhull, who has made it one of the most complete individualizations of the comedy stage of to-day. He is supported by the accomplished actress Miss Louise Arnot, who is widely known and equally popular, and a numerous company of competent gentlemen and ladies. Particular attention is given to the setting of the play, nothing being spared to ensure its presentation in the most satisfactory manner. The accompanying fine music by the "Uncle Hiram" Orchestra and Brass Band will be universally commended.

Will appear in the Opera House Monday September 16th. This troupe has its own band and orchestra. Don't fail to see the street parade.

Harrisburg.

This is to testify that for ten years last past I have been a constant sufferer from Chronic Diarrhœa. Have consulted some of the best physicians of my own city and Baltimore. Spent hundreds of dollars in a vain effort to get relief all to no avail. During the spring of 1889 I became so bad and was so much reduced in flesh and strength that I found myself unable to support my family. Death was staring me in the face as I was rapidly and surely failing. A neighbor of mine who had been treated and cured of an old chronic trouble at the Medical and Surgical Institute, advised me to visit the institute and have a thorough examination. This I did. I was told the cause of my trouble. I commenced treatment at once and to-day I am as strong and as well as ever. I am working every day and enjoy splendid health. I believe that had it not been for Drs. Mease and Shumway, under whose care I was at the Institute, that I should be in my grave today. I will very cheerfully answer any communication that may be sent to me. My address is South Front street, Harrisburg, Pa.

June 14, 1888. M. NELLEY.

Dr. Shumway of the Institute will be at the Exchange Hotel, Bloomsburg, Wednesday, Sept. 18. One day only.

Nude on the River Bank.

On Sunday morning a boy named Curley found a young and prepossessing woman, entirely nude, on the river bank, near the steamboatlanding at Plymouth, says the Leader. Some distance down the road, under a lumber shed, her clothes were discovered, carefully piled upon some logs. After dressing herself the woman told an interesting story, though she refused to give her name.

She stated that she had come from Pittsburg, where she resides with her husband. She came by way of Erie and Elmira, for the purpose of visiting her sister, who resides at Berwick. But the D. L. & W. train reaching Plymouth at 1:30 Saturday night went no farther and she found herself alone in a strange place. She met some man and was invited to drink. What happened afterward is a blank to her. But she is satisfied that she was drugged and robbed. She claims that she had $10 when she came to Plymouth, but only $1 was found in her clothing. She proceeded to Berwick Monday morning.—Echo.

Fairs.

The opening fair of the Shamokin Agricultural and Driving Park Association is held this week, from the 10th to the 13th.

The eighteenth annual Fair of the Muncy Valley Farmer's Club will be held at Hughesville on Sept. 25 to 28.

The fifth annual exhibition of the Milton Driving Park and Fair Association will be held at Milton October 1, 2, 3, and 4.

The Montour Driving Park and Fair Association will hold its annual exhibition at Danville September 17, 18, 19, and 20.

The fourth annual exhibition of the Mahanoy Valley Association will be held at Lavelle, near Ashland, September 17 to 20.

The thirty-fourth annual exhibition of the Berks county Agricultural Society will be held at Reading Sept. 17 to 20.

To All Comrades of the P. R. V. C.

The Pennsylvania Reserve Association for Pennsylvania will hold its annual reunion at Sunbury on Thursday, October 9th 1889. (Grand Army Day).

A register will be open at head quarters so that comrades may know who they will find there. All comrades are requested to register immediately after their arrival at Sunbury.

The hour for the business meeting will be announced at the head quarters.

It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of Pennsylvania Reserves.

All comrades seeing this notice are requested to see that their local papers copy it. Newspapers of the State are respectfully requested to give this matter as much circulation as possible.

B. F. SHARPLESS, Secty. J. B. ROBISON, Pres.

The Berks County Fair

Will be held in the city of Reading, Pa., on September 17, 18, 19 and 20. The Berks County Agricultural Society has at great expense equipped new grounds on North Eleventh street, every necessary adjunct for a successful fair having been provided, including a splendid race-course. There will be many new and attractive features, and a grand display in every department is assured. Berks county will be seen at its best on this occasion. The fairs of the society have always ranked among the most attractive and best attended in the United States, and two year's preparation having been made for the exhibition of 1889, it will undoubtedly eclipse every previous effort. The facilities for reaching the grounds are first-class, passenger trains running direct to the main entrance, arriving and departing every few minutes.

Half-Rates to Columbus for the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, via Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will convene at Columbus, Ohio, September 16th to 22. This meeting will undoubtedly bring together the largest assemblage of the order ever before gathered on a similiar occasion. It is expected that 15,000 members, including a large number of Patriarchs Militant, will be in attendance. The parades and ceremonies which will extend through the week will be highly interesting to the public as well as to members of the order. For this occasion the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets from all principal stations on its lines east of Pittsburg and Erie (except New York), September 13th to 16th, valid for return until September 26th, 1889, at the rate of a single fare for the round trip.

The universally admitted superiority of the Pennsylvania Railroad's great system of through trains, equipped with coaches, sleeping and dining cars, affording every convenience to the traveler, commends this route to the favorable consideration of visitors.

EDITORS COLUMBIAN:

The ball and festival in Hess Grove, last Saturday night was pretty well patronized.

Mrs. John W. Kile who had a stroke of palsy sometime ago, died at her home Saturday forenoon, interred at Coles Creek cemetary, Monday Sept. 9th, she leaves a husband and eight children to mourn her departure. By the death of Mrs. Kile the people of this vicinity have lost a kind and corteous neighbor, the children a loving and faithful mother and the husband a true and sincere wife. The deepest sympathy of the neighborhood is with the afflicted family.

Mrs. Koons and daughter of Michigan who were visiting relatives at this place, returned home last week.

Mr. Harvey Long was the guest of B. R. Laubach and C. F. Mann, on Sunday last.

Miss Nettie Hartman, who has been visiting at Cameron Pa., expects to return home the latter part of Sept. Many anxious friends are waiting her arrival.

Miss Callie Knouse of Benton, who has been stopping with Mrs. Wesley Hess returned home saturday. Callie made many friends here who were sorry to see her leave.

HALF RATES TO WASHINGTON.

FOR KNIGHT TEMPLAR CONCLAVE, VIA PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

The Triennial Conclave of Knights Templar will be held in Washington October 8th to 11th, 1889. The event will undoubtedly prove one of the most brilliant affairs in the history of the National Capital. The grand parade of brilliantly uniformed Knights, mounted on gayly caparisoned steeds, will be, in itself, a picture worth going miles to witness. Besides this there will be receptions, drills, and other features of interest to others than Knights.

For the benefit of visitors the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Washington from all stations on its system October 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th, valid for return until October 31st 1889, at a single fare for the round trip.

The specific rate from Bloomsburg will be $6.10.

Will be paid by Dr. Shumway, for any case of hemorrhoids piles, that he cannot cure. Remember that we use no knife and no ligature. No detention from business, and absolutely no pain. Dr. Shumway of the Harrisburg Medical Institute will be at the Exchange Hotel on Wednesday, Sept. 18. One day only.

During the month of September the books of the COLUMBIAN office will receive a thorough over-hauling, and bills will be sent out to everyone who owes an account past due, for subscription, job work or advertising, whether it be large or small. All those who dislike being "dunned" by mail, should avoid it by paying up at once.

Newport, Pa.

For nearly 15 years from Hemorrhoids (Piles). Had consulted many physicians and tried many remedies, but unfortunately for me could obtain no relief. Last March I learned of the successful "Brinkerhoff" treatment as used at the Medical and Surgical Institute, and availed myself of it. Was completely and permanently cured and without any pain whatever. I gladly and cheerfully recommend the physicians who constitute the faculty of the Medical and Surgical Institution to Suffering humanity. I want to add that for two weeks prior to treatment, I was confined to my bed, suffering continuously. I will cheerfully answer any correspondence in relation to the above.

ALDEN'S MANIFOLD CYCLOPEDIA.

Careful examination shows that in many respects this remarkable work is superior to any of its competitors, especially in its adaptation to popular use; its combination of an unabriged dictionary with the ordinary features of a cyclopedia of universal knowledge is unique. The definitions and pronunciation of the words are clear and accurate, the illustrations are excellent, the topics are thoroughly treated and embrace the results of the recent investigations and discoveries. Then, too, the extremely low price place it within the reach of all. The eighteenth volume is fully to the high-water mark of its predecessors. It is especially rich in its biographies. We find sketches of Hall and Hayes, the Artic explorers; John Hall and Robert Hall, celebrated clergymen; Hallam and Herodotus, great historians; Haller, the philologist; Alexander Hamilton, the statesman, and Sir William Hamilton, the scientiest; Handel and Hadyn, the music composers; Hannibal, the foe of Rome; Hegel, the philosopher; Heine, the poet, and Hengstenberg, the theologian; Herschel, the astronomer, and many other men of renown. Among important articles in other lines are Hallucination; Hand; Hanseatic League, the famous trade union of the Middle Ages; Harbor; Hartford Convention, unique and famous in our political history; Harvard University; Hay; Hayti; Heat; Heart; Heaven; Hell; Heredity; Heresy; and Hieroglyphics. The forty volumes in which this great work will be completed will make a splendid library. The price, which must advance as the work nears completion, is wonderfully low. If received before Oct. 15, 1889, $17.90 will pay for a full set in cloth binding, or $25.90 for the half morocco style. A specimen volume which can be returned if not satisfactory, will be sent for 60 cents in cloth, or 85 cents in half morocco. JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, New York, Chicago and Atlanta.

Wishing to accomodate many subscribers who have shown an interest in our notices of this work, we volunteer to show to any one the volumes thus far issued, in our possession, and will also receive and forward any orders which they choose to leave with us. Something can be saved in cost of transportation by ordering several shipped together.

that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery outsells all other blood and liver medicines, since it possesses such superior curative properties as to warrant its manufacturers in supplying it to the people (as they are doing, through druggists) under conditions such as no other medicine is sold under, viz: that it must either benefit or cure the patient, or the money paid for it will be promptly returned. It cures all diseases arising from deranged liver, or from impure blood, as biliousness, "liver complaint," all skin and scalp diseases, saltrheum, tetter, scrofulous sores and swellings, fever-sores, hip-joint disease and kindred ailments.

WANAMAKER'S.

PHILADELPHIA, MONDAY, Sept. 9, 1889.

The first week of the September Limited Sale has gone. It has been a success.

Like a good book or musical composition, each wise business scheme has a motive. The motive of this sale is to make good business better.

We are asked is business dull? Why, bless you, no. August sales were phenomenally large. We've told you that before.

To continue the outflow of goods, Bargains have been sought and brought, sometimes from our own stocks, sometimes from others, but brought they have been. And trade has kept its course with a rush and stocks have been cleared out thoroughly.

Remember the Blankets. Never such a Blanket story as that we told you last week.

Remember the Linens. They are now at the counters.

Remember the Parlor Suites and the Bedroom Suites. Money in them yet for you but not for us.

Ask for Tuxedo Suiting.

That's the rich, soft, all-wool stuff that would be "cheap at 75c," but is 50c. The mill people won't recognize "Tuxedo." No matter, a better story of dress good value was perhaps never hung on a borrowed peg.

A $1.50 stuff for $1. Another of the surprises, Fancy Striped Cheviot. A stylish imported stuff, 50 inches wide, and shot with silk in some of the delicate stripes.

Yet another from over sea; $1.75 the starting price, now $1. Half a dozen plain color; a good, strong crêpey stuff, weight for Fall and Winter.

48-inch Camel Hair Suiting that was $1.50, now 75c. As thick with frizzly hair as need be. A bang-up fabric of its kind. Six or eight plain colors.

37½c Cheviots 25c.
75c Tricots 50c.
$1 Mohairs 65c.
50-inch Ladies' Cloth 60c.
$1.25 to $1.50 Suitings 75c.
$1.50 to $250 Suitings $1.
50c Plaids 37½c.
37½c Mélanges 20c.
20c Mixtures 15c.

That's the sort of a harvest you'll find anywhere you try in Dress Goods.

The September number of BOOK NEWS has a plate paper portrait of Charles Dudley Warner, and a good picture of BJornsterne BJornson, the famous Scandinavian novelist, besides a couple of illustrations of characteristic Scottish scenes.

All interesting, some of them pretty. But the gist of BOOK NEWS is the monthly descriptive price list of books not more than six weeks old. It gives you a hint of what the books amount to; it tells you the fair price to pay for them. With BOOK NEWS in hand you have a check on your bookseller wherever you are.

The little money Book News costs you (50 a year) it is likely to bring back to you with every pretentious book you buy.

Sample copies 5c.

We have seven special Lawn Tennis Rackets: Germantown, $4.50; Wissahickon, $3.50; Belmont, $3.50; Ardmore, $2.50; Fairmount $2; Youth's, $1.50; Juvenile, $1. We hold either to be the equal of any other Racket costing one-third more. The other makes are here—nearly thirty of them.

So are all the Tennis traps and every sort of sporting gear.

Archery outfits complete. Bows 10c to $4—a good one for $1; Arrows 4 to 12c each; Targets 75c to $8.

Base Ball, Cricket, and Croquet sets, choicest makes and moderate prices.

No better time to fit up the fishing tackel kit than when the season's lessons are hot in mind. Abbey & Imbrie's all.

What next for Bloomsburg"? Now our City Hall is contracted for to be built near where the old Forks Hotel was located, we cannot say what and where the next improvement will strike us. We are ready for every body with a big stock of fall and winter goods. Our County fair will be the largest this year. (20,000 on Friday if fair weather, is our figures) we are making the largest arrangements for it; we now use 5 rooms up stairs, one for surplus stock, one for curtain room, one for Ladies, Misses and Childrens Coats, one for ladies and children, toilet and wash room, one for unpacking room. Our curtain room is filled with all the latest styles. Our coat room is worth seeing if you need a new one. Have you ever bought any of our all wool red twilled flannel some say its as good as they paid 35c for, we only ask 25c yd. People who have been in our store know all about our stock of dress goods and trimmings, and will come again; we invite strangers and others to call. We offer 50clb for the best 5lb roll of butter exhibited this season at our Fair. That is our special premium if the butter is passed upon by the judges and brought to us.

SHERIFF'S SALE
OF VALUABLE
Real Estate!

By virtue of a writ of Fi. Fa. issued out of the

A Gay Evening In Moscow.

Treating their women as slaves, and their sons as minors even long after they have attained the age of manhood, the merchants of the old types live aloof from any political or even intellectual movement, under a rude patriarchial system.

The sons and grandsons of these old-fashioned bearded merchants, the "kupecheskiyesynki" (merchant's sons), as they are called, when they abandon the habits of their ancestors, astonish the capital by their extravagancies and absurd display of wealth. These young Russians shave their chins, dress in European style, keep horses, carriages, and actresses, go to the theaters, and often push beyond the frontiers as far as Nice, Monte Carlo, or Paris, where they astound waiters and chorus girls by their wild prodigality and fantastic ostentation. The Muscovite merchant of the old type is a solid Oriental; his emancipated sons and grandsons have a thin varnish of apparent Western civilization, or rather Western corruption, but they remain, nevertheless, rank barbarians. This they show in their amusements, and even in their hospitality, as we may readily conceive ourselves by spending a "gay" evening in Moscow.

The reader need not be alarmed; we shall not invite him to follow us into any very terrible places, but simply to accompany us to the park. It was a long ride. The swift drosky rattled along up-hill and down-hill, through this suburb and that suburb, and then along an endless street of immense width paved with cobble stones and bowlders, and lined with white houses, mostly only one story high. Finally we pass beyond the utmost limits of the city, past an enigmatic triumphal arch erected in the middle of a wilderness, and so across a stretch of open country, beyond which is Petrofski Park. At the entrance of the park are some pretty summer villas built of wood, and ornamented with fret-work carvings in the well known Russian style. Then after driving along immense avenues bordered with fine trees, we reached the restaurants and concerts of which we had heard so much, Strelna, Mauritania, Arcadia, Eldorado, and others, where the famous Tysganes or Bohemiennes sing. After the lyrical and hyperbolical descriptions of Theophile Gautier and other enthusiastic travellers, to say nothing of the boasts and recommendations of acquaintances, we were prepared for marvels and splendors, for something fairy-like and unheard of, or at least for some new and memorable sensations. The deception was complete. These establishments consist of pine-wood halls surrounded by gardens similar to ordinary German beer-gardens; and the salons and private rooms, instead of being enriched with gilding and sumptuous divans, are furnished with economical bent-wood chairs, simple looking glasses, and paltry tables.

We visited these establishments one after the other; they were all the same, all enveloped in a vail of dismal malaria and ennui suggestive of bankruptcy: the pine wood halls were empty, the waiters half asleep; in one corner of the room on a dais was an orchestra, but the musicians did not play. Pacing up and down in couples, their arms around each others waists, were women, mostly Sweeds and Germans, dressed in bright indoor costume—chorus singers who did not sing. In out of the way corners sat ancient matrons of horrible aspect, painted and powdered, who seemed to watch over the promenading of the chorus-singers. Near the door stood a few gypsy women in shabby European costume, and a fat brigandish gypsy man dressed in brown corduroy, with a black cloth cap on his head. In the garden a dozen military officers were sitting at the tables drinking tea and smoking cigarettes; they wore long overcoats, although we were supposed to be enjoying midsummer heat—so sensitive are the Russians to cold and damp. Strange, is it not, that in spite of this sensativeness they should be so fond of out-door places of amusements?

What was to be done? We consulted a Russian friend, an officer who had kindly guided us to these distant wastes.

"Why do not the Bohemiennes sing? Why are there so few people here?

These questions seemed to strike him as being rather odd. The Bohemiennes, he told us, sing only when they are paid; we must hire a private room and make a bargain with the fat man in corduroy.

"How much do they want?"

"At least twenty-five rubles."

We made the bargain, hired a room, ordered refreshments, and soon half a dozen men with guitars, and the same number of women, all of them ugly beyond exception, and dressed in ridiculous French costumes, entered and took their places at the end of the room. They sang some melancholy Russian songs, then some passionate Tsygane songs, and then three of them danced with lascivious Oriental movements, while the others howled and ejaculated in truly savage fashion. But in order to induce them to execute this dance the guerdon had to be raised from twenty-five to a hundred rubles, and still we are looked upon as very small seigneurs. Certainly the songs and dances of these Bohemienne, have a wild and striking character—on several subsequent occasions we had the opportunity of ascertaining this fact—but from the point of view of art and intensity of expression, these famous Moscow gypsys cannot for a moment be compared with the Spaniards; and as for their vaunted beauty, it is a delusion and a snare. Not one in a hundred of them can pretend to good looks. The Tayganes of Moscow are one of those colossal "frauds" in which the East is no fertile. In any other country these people would exercise the profession of chair-menders fortune-tellers poultry thieves, and horse-dealers, for which the gypsies have natural gifts; in Moscow, thanks to the naivete of the new-fangled merchants and of the rich young man in general, they are to spoil the Egyptians with less trouble and risk. No fete is considered complete without the Bohemiennes, no prodigality in money or jewelry can satisfy their rapacity; reserved, disdainful, inaccessible to the enterprises of gallantry, these gypsy women drive the glided youth of Russia wild with enthusiasm, and stir their torpid souls in much the same way as ardent spirits tickle their dil paulates.

The fascination which they exercise over the incoherent imagination of the Russians is exemplified by the case of a Prince Galitzin, who in our own days bought from her tribe for more than fifty thousand dollars the young Taygane who became his wife and the mother of his children. This lady, now divorced from her husband, lives in the vast Galitzin Place at Moscow, on the Moskwa Quay, and does not disdain to increase her handsome income by carrying on one of the largest pawn-broking businesses in the Russian Empire.

After hearing the Bohemiennes, and after further questioning our Russian friends, we begin to understand why these cafes chantants in the park are so ordinarily so deserted, and why there is no regular public to speak of: they depend largely upon the suport of the Jeunesse doree, and this gilded youth has a peculiar way of organizing pleasure party. A young seigneur or a young merchant will drive up to one of these establisments, accompanied by his friends, and hire the whole house. If there are other customers present, he will pay them to go away, or fight with them for possession if they prefer the latter course. Then he will hire the Bohemiennes, order champagne by the hundred bottles, and a feast copious enough for a company of giants, and then, after so many hours of wild and brutal eating, drinking, and roistering, he and his friends will smash glasses, dishes, tables, chairs, and every thing breakable within the place. This breakage is always reckoned beforehand in the contract.

Such is young Moscow's idea of a night of pleasure—the ostentatious spending of large sums of money. Naturally, with such customers as these, say four nights only out of the seven, Strelna and Mauritania can exist and even enrich their proprietors; but when some gay sparks are not engaged in making matchwood of the furniture, they are dull, dismal, and full of ennui THEODORE CHILD, in Harper's Magazine for September.

Central Pennsylvania Exposition.

GRANGERS PICNIC-EXHIBITION AT CENTRE HALL AN IMMENSE AFFAIR.

Railroad and tent arrangements have been completed for the monster Picnic Exhibition to take place in Colonel Taylor's Fort Woods, at Centre Hall, September 17 to 20 inclusive. Access by rail will be convenient from all directions and sufficient trains will be placed on the several roads to make going and coming very convenient. Hon. Leonard Rhone, chairman of the association, informs the writer that up to this time the applications for tent and exhibition privileges are far in excess of what they were last year.

The list of speakers comprises such men as Col. Bingham, of Ohio, Master of the National Grange, P. of H., Governor James A. Beaver, Hon. Mortimer Whitehead, of New Jersey, Lecturer of of the National Grange; Brigadier General D. H. Hastings; Senator Brown, of York county, Lecture of the State Grange; General B. F. Fisher of Chester county, and others.

One of the attractions, outside of the general discussion of Grange topics and display of machinery and agricultural implements, C. K. Sober the champion wing shot of America, has consented to give exhibitions of his wonderful marksman ship, at stated intervals during the week.

Seven trains will run each day over the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad from Centre Hall to Montandon, connecting with trains on the P. & E. road and also to Bellefonte, connecting with trains on the Bald Eagle Valley road.

This picnic-exhibition will, without a doubt, be one of the largest and most successful affairs ever held in Centre county or Central Pennsylvania and will be attended by thousands upon thousands of people from all over this and adjoining states.

A GOOD APPETITE.

Is essential to good health; but at this season it is often lost, owing to the poverty or impurty of the blood, derangement of the digestive organs, and the weakening effect of the changing season. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a wonderful medicine for creating an appetite, toning the digestion, and giving strength to the whole system. Now is the time to take it. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Still Prosecuting Their Weary Work.

The three judges who are still prosecuting the weary task of taking testimony in the contested Judicial election case in Lycoming county, meet at regular intervals and go on with their work that seems to be endless. It is now nearly a year since they began piling up this pretty bill of costs which the taxpayers of the county will have to pay. The witnesses that have been examined have been numerous enough to form a small army, and yet sufficient evidence has not yet been secured to make it clear that the Democratic candidate who had a majority of the votes should step down and give the bench to the minority Republican candidate. Upon its face the case bears the unmistakable appearance of a design to steal the judgeship.

The dull proceedings of the court of inquiry were enlivened the other day by a question that arose concerning the printing of the evidence. Complaint was made that the printers were behind in putting this voluminous stuff in print, and one of the learned judges threatened that if the Williamsport printers couldn't come up to the requirements of the emergency it would be necessary to have the printing completed in Philadelphia. What a nice item in the bill of costs the printing expenses are going to be, and taking it all together the taxpayers will have a pretty sum to pay as the result of this Republican scheme to seat a judge who was not elected.—Watchman.

THE DANVILLE FAIR.

The Nineteenth Exhibition of the Montour Agricultural Society will be held at Danville, Pa., commencing on Tuesday, September 17th, 1889 and continuing four days. Extensive preparations are being made for the same and it promises to be the largest and finest fair ever held by this Society. Elegant buildings are on the grounds for the proper display of the farm products and manufactured articles, also good stabling for the live stock on exhibition. The track has been widened and otherwise improved and is now one of the best in the State. All trotting will be done under the rules of the National Association, of which this fair is a member. Numerous attractions will be offered each day and every thing will be done to give all persons visiting the fair an enjoyable time. The citizens in this section are cordially invited to be present.

THE BEST ADVERTISING

The most efficient advertising in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that which comes from the medicine itself. That is, those who are cured by it, speak to friends suffering similarly, who in turn derive benefit and urge others to try this successful medicine. Thus the circle of its popularity is rapidly widening from this cause alone, and more and more are becoming enthusiastic in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla as it actually demonstrates its absolute merit. All that is asked for Hood's Sarsaparilla is that it be given a good trial. If you need a good blood purifier, or building up medicine, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

GO AND SEE FOR YOURSELF.

The announcement of a series of what have become known as harvest excursions to be run by the Chicago & Northwestern Railway during the months of August September and October, will be joyfully received by a large number of our readers who are becoming interested in those portions of the wonderful Northwest, reached by this railroad and its connections Topographical and sectional maps accompanied by vivid descriptions and voluminous crop reports, are excellent mediums for awakening the interest of home seekers in a new country, and these supplemented by opportunities placed within the reach of all for visiting the country at a season when exact demonstration can be made of its merit, give convincing evidence of the fact that the North-Western Company has sufficent faith in the regions traveled by its lines, to extend unusual facilities for all to go and see for yourself.

The excursions will be five in number, and will leave Chicago August 6th and 20th, September 10 and 24th, and October 8th. Tickets can be purchased at the rate of one fare for the round trip to points in Iowa, Minnesota, South and North Dakota, Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana. These tickets will be good to return thirty days from the date of purchase, with stop-over privileges in certain territories, thus giving landseekers ample time and opportunity to "spy out the land," and to discover for themselves the fitness of the great West and Northwest for homes and investments. South Dakota just blossoming into vigorous statehood, with over six million acres of government free land now open to settlement, and a large area of cheap railroad and deeded lands; the fertile valleys and mining interests of the Black Hills, of uncalculated value; the beautiful and productive Elkhorn and Niobrara valleys of Nebraska, and the broad grazing districts of Wyoming are all traversed by the Chicago & North-Western Railway, and are available by means of these excursions. Maps and circulars giving detailed information and rate from Chicago to all principal points will be mailed on application to

The whole number of breweries in Europe in 1889 was 50,801, and the production of beer and ale amounted to about 4,580,000,000 gallons. The taxes collected from this sea of beer amounted to about $130,000,000. The malt used weighed 740,000 tons, and the hops 110,000 tons. Germany alone contained 26,143 breweries, producing 1,188,000,000 gallons, while Austro-Hungary had only 1979 breweries producing 354,000,000 gallons. The figures relating to the production per capita show that the smallest quantity, one litre per head, the litre being a little more than a quart is Bosnia and Roumania. Greece shows 2½ litres, Russia 43.5, France 31, Switzerland 40, Denmark 63, Germany 73, Upper Austria 116, Lower Austria 121, Belgium 150, Wurtemburg 218, and the kingdom of Bavaria leads all competitors with 248 litres, or nearly 65½ gallons, for every man, woman and child in the country. These statistics do not include England.

GRAPE CURE ESTABLISHMENT.

Mr. Speer, of New Jersy, whose wines have such a well merited and extended reputation all over this country and Europe, for their age and excellent properites in case of sickness, and are so famous for their curative properties is about to build a large Hotel or Grape Cure Establishment on one corner of his vineyard. The House will accomodate five or six hundred guests who are to have the privilege of roaming among the vines, in the morning to pluck the ripe grapes and breakfast on them while the cool dew is yet on.

JEWELS AND LACES.

"Oh, girl with the jewelled fingers,
Oh, girl with the laces rare!"

What are your jewels and what are your laces worth to you if, from undergoing the trying ordeals which fashionable society imposes on its devotees, enough to test the physical strength and endurance of the most robust, you break down, lose your health and become a physical wreck, as thousands do from such causes?

Under such circumstances you would willingly part with all your jewels and all your laces to regain lost health. This you can do if you will but resort to the use of that great restorative known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Thousands of grateful women bless the day it was made known to them.

For all derangements, irregularities and weaknesses peculiar to women, it is the only remedy, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

An invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system. For feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate the liver, stomach and bowels, and cleanse the blood. Sold by druggists. 25 cents a vial. One a dose.

RHEUMATISM

For More than Twenty-five Years.—A Complete Recovery.—The Means Used.

I had Inflammatory Rheumatism. For nearly a year I had to be fed and turned in bed. I could find no relief. My stomach was ruined and cut to pieces with powerful medicines taken to effect a cure so that I was compelled to live on bread and water. I suffered for twenty-five years in this way. I was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y., and thanks to this medicine. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is my best friend. With it I am enabled to enjoy a good night's rest. Also food, such as meat and pastry, which I have been deprived of for years, showing that the Favorite Remedy has no equal for the cure of Indigestion and Dyspepsia as well. If any should doubt this statement I will send the ready proof at once.—Garrett Lansing, Troy, N. Y.

It is my pleasure and absolute duty toward those who are struggling for very life against the deadly to add my testimony to the already weighty evidence of the wonderful efficacy of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. My wife was a hopeless case, abandoned by the physicians. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was resorted to; not because any hope was placed in it, but because nothing else remained. All means and medicines had been tested without avail. The effect was little short of a miracle. At the second bottle she had received strength, and continuing the treatment has fully recovered.—Jay Sweet, Albany, N. Y.

THE MILTON FAIR.

IT WILL EXCEL ANY EXHIBITION EVER HELD IN CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA.

The Milton Driving Park and Fair Association, of Milton Pa., will hold their Fifth Annual Exhibition, on their permanent and conveniently arranged grounds, just north of town, October 1, 2, 3, and 4, next. Complete and extensive arrangements have been made in every department and every detail, to make this exhibition the grandest attraction ever held in Central Pennsylvania. The beautiful grounds and substantial buildings, have been improved, enlarged and put in perfect repair; the "model" race course—paragon half mile track—is in the best conditon, and the management are assured of having some of the best races the State affords. The exhibit will largely exceed any of previous years and will contain many new and novel features. The premium lists are very complete and liberal aggregating the sum of $8,000. Besides these attractions, Pawnee Bill's Great Historical Wild West, will give free Exhibitions on the race track, the first three days, illustrating with his aggregation of Indians, squaws, cowboys, etc., wild life on the border. "David L," the fastest little horse—56 inches high and weighing less than 700 pounds—and numerous specialties will be exhibited. Excursion rates have been secured over all railroads centering at Milton, and Pennsylvania railroad trains will stop at the grounds for the accommodation of visitors to the fair.

Additional Trains between Harrisburg and Gettysburg during G. A. R Encampment

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company announces that, on Sunday September 8th, regular trains leaving Harrisburg via Cumberland Valley Railroad at 7:45 A. M., 12:20, 3:45 P. M. will connect for Gettysburg. Trains arriving at Harrisburg at 11:10 A. M., 3:15, 7:10 P. M. will also connect from Gettysburg. Commencing on Monday the 9th, and continuing until the 14th, in addition to those already mentioned, there will be a connection to Gettysburg for the trains leaving Harrisburg at 4:35 A. M. and 9:00 P. M., and from Gettysburg for trains arriving at Harrisburg at 1:05 and 8:55 A. M. This arrangement presents five trains each way between Harrisburg and Gettysburg during the encampment, all connecting with trains on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

On Sunday, Sept. 15th, a train will leave Harrisburg 7:45 A. M. (connecting with 4:30 A. M. from Philadelphia) for Gettysburg at 5:00 P. M., arriving at Philadelphia 10:55 P. M.

MORTGAGE ON THE WHITE HOUSE.

MONEY SAID TO HAVE BEEN LENT GEORGE WASHINGTON BY VIRGINIA.

Recent agitation about building a new and more expensive presidential mansion has brought to the surface an old mortgage on the White House that has been forgotten or lost sight of for long time. Mr. M. B. Harlow, secretary and treasurer of the Mount Vernon Avenue Association, is the man who brings forward the claim. In an interview about the proposed new executive mansion he says:

"I am glad to see the subject agitated and I hope it will be taken up by and pushed by Congress. When it is, our association, to whom the Virginia Legislature has transferred its claim against the Government for money barrowed by General Washington to build the present structure, will present that claim and ask for payment for the old house before it begins the new. The claim, which is for $120,000, has never been denied by the Government, nor can it be, for we have the promise of the Government made through Washington, to pay the money back to Virginia should it ever be able to do so. We will not, perhaps, ask that the claim be paid in money, but will probably suggest that Congress defray the expenses of building the proposed national highway to Mount Vernon. If they agree, we will transfer the Virginia mortgage on the White House as her contribution to the project."

Stonewall Jackson's Daughter Buried

LEXINGTON Va., Sept. 1.—Funeral service over the remains of Mrs. Julia Jackson Christian took place this morning at the Presbyterian Church. The services were conducted by the Rev. Thomas I. Preston, D. D., pastor, assisted by Rev. Ebenezer Junkin, D. D., of Houston, Texas. The church was jammed, the entire population of the place being out. The weather was fair and warm. The body was interred beside her father's, General Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson. The scene at the church and the grave was unusally pathetic. Many battle-scarred veterans of the Confederacy, with heads bowed and tears, watched the remains laid to rest. The funeral party from Charlotte, N. C., left here to night for home.

Scraps of News.

Visitors at the Pike's Peak observatory have for years been regaled with the statement that this is the highest point on the globe which is inhabited the year round." It now appears that regular meteorological observations are made on the Andes, in Peru, at the night of 14,300 feet higher than the Pike's Peak station. In Europe there are but two stations at any considerable height, these being about ten thousand and eleven thousand feet respectively.

P. &R. engine 447 which was fitted up with an electrical apparatus to prevent the locomotive from slipping, is working satisfactorily. The engine is being tried on the Frankville grade and while the electric motor is in operation she holds to the rail and does not slip The experiments will be continued for several weeks.

CATARRH,
Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.
A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (whites) this remedy is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. DIXON & SON, 306 West King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should read the above carefully.

THE HAY FEVER SEASON
July, August, September.

"At this season, when life offers the greatest attractions and the most delightful resources to persons whose soundness of body permits out-of-door exercise and amusements, multitudes are deprived from the joys of the summer by hay fever, one of the most exasperating, wearisome, and depressing ills to which humanity is subject—obscure, inexplicable, descending on a given date like an invisible blow of fate. The sufferers from hay fever have looked in vain for any trustworthy remedy. Many of them, however, have looked in vain because they have been ignorant of Ely's Cream Balm, an admirable remedy for hay fever in all its forms. Agreeable in the use, entirely devoid of any unpleasant after-effects, this Cream Balm quickly allays inflammation and seems to be the rare for which the sufferer has longed in vain."—From The Christian Union, New York City, July 18, 1889. 5-2 4t.
